It is pretty hard to prove the statement of some stranger residing in far-away parts of the country, but the testimony of a St. Louis citizen, that follows, should convince the most skeptical.

Louis Kreger, cigars and tobacco, 3819 Easton avenue, says: "Before I went to the Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. for Doan's Kidney Pills I had a severe pain in my back just over the kidneys. I knew those organs were at fault, for I had had attacks similar were at fault, for I had had attacks similar to the one mentioned for at least four years. RELIGIOUS ORDERS PREPARE FOR EXILE

Decisive Vote in French Chamber of Deputies Makes Definite the Government's Policy.

MANY DETAILS ARE UNSETTLED.

Attitude of the Combes Ministry Indicates That Enforcement of the Law Will Be Pushed With Vigor.

Paris, March 19.-The vote in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday gives definite form to the present policy of the Government to terminate the existence of the religious teaching orders and to substitute a system of governmental schools.

The principle of this party was formulated under the premiership of M. Waldeck-Rousseau, but its actual enforcement was left to the present Combes ministry

Rousseau, but its actual enforcement was left to the present Combes ministry.

The law voted yesterday is very brief and negative in its terms, simply refusing authorization to teach to all the male religious teaching orders.

The effect of this is to place the orders outside the pale of the law and their further existence is through sufferance.

There remains to be determined the time to be allowed to the orders to wind up their affairs and terminate their work.

Many of the orders, anticipating the Chamber vote, have already completed their plans to retire from the field. It is expected that a few months will almost suffice to execute the changes.

Numerous incidental questions are involved in the transference of the pupils and the effect on the extensive properties, and notices of several interpoliations have been given with the view of securing delay, permitting an adjustment of the new conditions.

The statements of M. Combes and other Ministerialists, however, indicate the prompt carrying out of the Premier's policy. An analysis of the vote shows that the ministry retained an ample majority for all practical purposes, although there was some falling off from the usual ministerial strength, twenty-five ministerialists separating themselves from the majority and four others not voting.

On the other hand, the ministerial strength was augmented by scattering votes from the Nationalists, while practically the full strength was augmented by scattering votes from the Nationalists, while practically the full strength was augmented by scattering votes from the Nationalists, while practically the full strength was augmented by scattering votes from the Nationalists, while practically the full strength was augmented by scattering votes from the Nationalists, while practically the full strength was augmented by scattering votes from the Nationalists, while practically the full strength was augmented by scattering votes from the national strength is more than sufficient strength to put its policy in execution.

Washington, March 19.-Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to-day sent the following telegram: Washington, March 12.—The Chief of Police, Tampa, Fla.: In the name of organized isbor, Tampa. Fin.: In the name of organized isbor, as well as every liberty-loving citizen, I demand full protection to our organizers. James Wood and James A. Roberts, and others, whose lives have been threatened. These men I know to be law-abiding citizens and would not be guilty of an unlawful act. They have a right to organize workingmen, and if necessary in defense of their rights, to strike for the enforcement of them. If no other means of redress is afforded. The kidnaping and making away with a number of Tampa's working less than two years ago warrants belief that the present threat is serious and emanates from a capitalistic organized bunditti.

the southeast corner of Broadway and Pine street yesterday to Albert Gehner, Jr., son of August Gehner, president of the German-American Bank, for $275,699. American Bank, for $25,00.

It is rumored in real estate circles that the purchaser is negotiating with Robert Lucas for the purchase of the four-story building adjoining the Pine street property on the cast. The latter property is at present under lease to the Western Union Telegraph Company.

By some it is conjectured that Mr. Gehner is endeavoring to secure a suitable site on which the Western Union Telegraph Company will erect a building. Another theory is advanced to the effect that the purchaser represents the Planters Hofel managers, and that the latter contemplate an addition to be erected for the accommodation of the World's Fair guests.

Expected That Decision in Wabash Injunction Case Will Be Handed Down Monday.

PUBLIC INTEREST CONTINUES.

F. N. Judson, Counsel for Trainmen and Firemen, Contends That Action of Committees and Trainmen Was Legal.

Argument in the Wabash injunction case will be closed this afternoon by Judge Henry S. Priest, associate counsel for the Wabash Company. It is expected that Judge Priest will reply to the argument of Frederick N. Judson, counsel for the trainmen's and firemen's committees, who spoke yesterday afternoon, and who will conclude his speech this morning. Wells H. Biodgett, vice president and general counsel for the Wabash Ratiroad, closed his argument yesterday morning.

Mr. islodgett, in his speech yesterday morning, stated that the policy of the Wabash Company would be in no wise changed toward the employes because of the present controversy, and that no lil will was relt toward those who were concerned in the salesed stignty, to force recognition of the toward those who were concerned in the alleged attempt to force recognition of the union.

It is expected that at the close of Judge Priest's argument Judge Adams will take the case under consideration, and will not hand down a decision before Monday.

P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, departed for Chicago last night. Mr. Morrissey expressed confidence in the injunction being dissolved. The nembers of the grievance committees and Assistant Grand Master Lee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Grand Master Harrehan of the Brotherhood of Locometive Firemen will remain in St. Louis until Judge Adams hands down his decision.

The leaders of the orders positively refuse to discuss their course in case the injunction is dissolved.

In his argument yesterday afternoon Mr. Judson maintained that when a set of men agree to act togetl, to attain a lawful end, and by lawful leans, the act cannot be termed a conspiracy. This, he stated, was done in the case of the Wabash employes, who desired better wages and preferred to quit work rather than accept the wages paid them.

RIGHTS OF EMPLOYES. MAY RESERVE DECISION.

RIGHTS OF EMPLOYES. Mr. Judson also maintained, and quoted various authorities in support of his arguent, that employes have the right by pre rranged agreement to quit either singly or arranged agreement to quit either singly or in a body.

Discussing the rights of the organizations Mr. Judeon held that the associations have the right to advise the members, and if the members see fit to empower the officers of the associations, or organizations, these officers have a legal right to demand an increase of wages and order a strike.

Mr. Judson further contended that in all of the correspondence between the members of the order, the officers, and Mr. Ramsey, no demand was made upon him to unionize the Wabash road.

In speaking of the possibility of a strike Mr. Judson said, "The time may come when more peaceful plans may be used to settle these questions, but now the employes have only one weapon." only one weapon."

Mr. Judeon dwelt at considerable length upon the necessity of the Wabash recognizing the committees which were sent to adjust differences and to make agreements for the men.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON ELKINS BILL.

Chairman MacLeod Will Issue Circular Setting Forth His Views. Chicago, March 19.—After three days of carnest debate, the Western Passenger Association has finally evinced its doubt as to whether the Elkins interstate commerce act was passed in the interest of railroads or for the benefit of the public.

Absolute failure to agree on any interpretation of the law marked the adjournment of the meeting this evening. In effect, the thirty general passenger agents attending the sesion came to the conclusion that the enactment would remain futile, at least until there had been a decision on some test case.

there had been a decision on some test case.

Not one of the proposals made at the mass meeting of passenger men March 5 received a confirmatory vote from the association, and the thirty-four roads in the organization 'will continue to operate as their executive officers see fit under their various constructions of the new law.

As there was no prospect of unanimous agreement, Chairman MacLeod was authorized to issue a circular setting forth his views of such changes as might be judicious.

The curators last year held a conference with committees representing the fraternities who give balls and with representatives from the faculty, with the view to a discontinuance of these dances.

There was no objection on the part of the board to the students or fraternities holding these dances, but the curators objected to the time of holding them.
